

About Us

ACI Financial's management began in the business in 1979. We understand the necessity of tailoring various financing alternatives to meet specific customer requirements. At ACI, there is a belief that a partnership should exist between equipment/software suppliers, the customer, and the financing company. This belief results in competitive and flexible pricing, and fast, consistent service to all parties.

ACI Financial will consider any type of equipment used in a commercial environment including computers, software, environmental, telecommunications, agricultural, photographic, industrial, manufacturing, medical, construction, retail, furniture, etc.

ACI Financial has offices in Georgia and Minnesota, and provides financing for customers throughout the United States.
